OF THE
PROVINCE OF NEW BRUNSWICK

FIRST SESSION OF THE FIFTY-NINTH
LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY, 2018

THE HONOURABLE JOCELYNE ROY VIENNEAU,
LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR

Fredericton, N.B.
Tuesday, October 23, 2018

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS the fourth session of the fifty-eighth Legislative Assembly of this Province was dissolved on the twenty-third day of August, 2018;

AND WHEREAS I have thought fit to call the first session of the fifty-ninth Legislative Assembly of this Province into session, I hereby issue a Proclamation that the same be called to meet on the twenty-third day of October, 2018 at 10 o'clock in the forenoon.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the Province at Fredericton this 5th day of October, in the year of our Lord Two Thousand and Eighteen, and in the sixty-seventh year of Her Majesty's Reign.

BY COMMAND OF THE LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR

Brian Gallant, Q.C.
Attorney General.

Jocelyne Roy Vienneau.
Lieutenant-Governor.

This being the day appointed for the opening of the First Session of the Fifty-Ninth Legislative Assembly of the Province of New Brunswick for the dispatch of business pursuant to the proclamation hereinbefore annexed, and the oath having been already administered to the Members of the Legislative Assembly as named in the roll, delivered to the Clerk of the House by the Chief Electoral Officer, the said Members took their seats in the House.

The Clerk of the Legislative Assembly then addressed himself to the House as follows:

I am commanded by Her Honour the Lieutenant-Governor to inform you that she doth not think fit to declare the causes for which she has summoned this Legislative Assembly until a Speaker thereof shall have been duly chosen.

It is therefore Her Honour's will that you, the Members of the Legislative Assembly, do proceed forthwith to choose a fit and proper person to be your Speaker, and that you present the person so chosen to Her Honour in this Assembly Chamber this afternoon for Her Honour's approbation.

The House then proceeded to the election of a Speaker pursuant to the provisions of Standing Rule 11.

The Clerk then announced:

Honourable Members, the Standing Rules stipulate that if only one Member stands for election to the office of Speaker, the Clerk of the House announces the candidate's name and, without any vote, declares that Member to be elected Speaker.

Members of the Legislative Assembly, it is my duty to inform you that only one candidate stands for election to the office pursuant to Standing Rule 11(8)(m). Therefore, it is my duty to announce that Daniel Guitard, the honourable Member for the electoral district of Restigouche-Chaleur, is declared elected as Speaker.

The Premier, the Honourable Mr. Brian Gallant, and the Leader of the Official Opposition, Mr. Blaine Higgs, escorted Mr. Daniel Guitard to the dais where, standing on the upper step, he addressed the House as follows:

Members of the Legislative Assembly,

I will begin my remarks by repeating the traditional words spoken by a Speaker following election to the office.

It is my pleasure today to express my grateful and humble acknowledgment to the House for the great honour you have been pleased to confer on me by choosing me as your Speaker.

Conscious as I am of my comparative inexperience in parliamentary procedure, I should have hesitated before accepting a position involving so much responsibility, were it not for the fact that I shall be able at all times to rely with confidence upon the courtesy, forbearance, and kindness of every Member of the Assembly.

Again, thanking you, I now submit myself to the House.

On a more personal note, I want to thank my wife, Diane, and my entire family for the support they have always given me throughout my political career. I particularly want to mention my mother, who is here with me today. I also want to thank the people from the Restigouche-Chaleur riding for their support and for giving me this second consecutive term as Member of the Legislative Assembly of New Brunswick.

This morning, I have something I would like to say to people from the village of Pointe-Verte. They saw me grow up, and have seen me elected at the municipal level and then as a Member of the Legislative Assembly. Now they see me becoming Speaker of the Legislative Assembly. Thank you to all of you for being part of my journey.

On September 24, the citizens of New Brunswick spoke. They want us to work together to make New Brunswick a better place for them. That starts here with proper decorum and conduct. I invite all honourable Members to reflect on the expectations of the citizens of this great province who have bestowed upon us the honour of representing them here in this Chamber.

As Speaker, I intend to work with all Members. I want all honourable Members to know that I will have an open-door policy.

The Assembly must function regardless of our differences, our interests, and our opinions.

As your Speaker, I will require your respect for all the rules of this House. Again, I will insist on proper decorum, dignity, and respect in this Chamber. The Office of the Speaker demands fairness and firmness.

Lastly, I want to express my gratitude in advance to the Clerk, the Clerk Assistant, the Sergeant-at-Arms, and all staff, who will support me in my role as I ensure that the Legislative Assembly functions smoothly. I thank you and wish you a nice day.

Thereupon Mr. Guitard took the chair, and the mace was placed upon the Clerk's Table.

The Honourable the Premier communicated to the House the following message from Her Honour the Lieutenant-Governor:

Mr. Speaker, the Clerk having signified to the House Her Honour's permission to proceed with the immediate election of a Speaker, I have now to inform the House that it is Her Honour's pleasure that the House should present their Speaker at 2 p.m. this afternoon in this Chamber for Her Honour's approbation.

At 10.13 a.m. the House recessed. At 2 p.m. the House resumed.

Her Honour the lieutenant-Governor was announced and having been bidden to enter, took her seat in the chair upon the Throne.

The Speaker then addressed Her Honour to the following effect:

May it Please Your Honour:

Your Honour having communicated your pleasure to the House, they proceeded to choose a Speaker. They have elected me to that important and honourable position, and I am now presented for your Honour's approval.

The Clerk of the House then said:

Mr. Speaker, I am commanded by Her Honour the Lieutenant-Governor to declare to you that she is fully sensible of your zeal for the public service and of your sufficiency to execute the duties of the office to which you have been elected by the Legislative Assembly, and she doth readily approve of their choice, and allow and confirm you to be their Speaker.

Mr. Speaker then addressed Her Honour in the following words:

May it Please Your Honour:

Your Honour having been pleased to approve the choice of the Assembly in electing me to be their Speaker, it now becomes my duty in the name and on behalf of the Assembly, to claim and demand that they have all their ancient and accustomed rights and privileges, especially freedom from arrest, freedom of speech in debate, access to Your Honour when they think the public service requires it, and that the most favourable construction be put on all their proceedings, and on my own behalf I have to request that any error of mine may not be imputed to the Assembly.

To which the Clerk of the House replied:

Mr. Speaker, Her Honour hath the utmost confidence in the loyalty and attachment of this Assembly to Her Majesty's person and government and in the wisdom, temper and prudence which will accompany all their proceedings, and she doth most readily and willingly grant and allow them all their privileges in as full and ample a manner as they have at any time heretofore been granted and allowed.

With respect to yourself, Mr. Speaker, though Her Honour is sensible that you do not stand in need of such assurance, Her Honour will ever put the most favourable construction on your words and actions.

Her Honour the Lieutenant-Governor was pleased to open the session with the following speech from the Throne:

Honourable Speaker and Members of the Legislative Assembly, invited guests, and all New Brunswickers:

It is my honour and privilege to welcome you to the First Session of the 59th Legislative Assembly of the Province of New Brunswick.

I would like to begin by acknowledging that the land on which we gather is the traditional unceded territory of the Wolastoqey Mi'kmaq and Peskotomuhkati Peoples.

Congratulations / Recognition

A number of New Brunswickers have had noteworthy achievements since our last session of the legislature.

We thank and congratulate the candidates who put their names forward for the recent provincial election. Of them, 38.6 per cent were women, which is an increase from the 32.2 per cent who ran in 2014. Congratulations and welcome to New Brunswick's new MLAs.

Eleven New Brunswickers were named to the Order of New Brunswick, including Judy Astle, Charles Bernard, Roberta Dugas, Louise Imbeault, Gaetan Lanteigne, Walter Learning, James Lockyer, Rebecca Schofield (posthumous), F. Eileen Wallace, and Ed and Eke van Oorschot.

Five New Brunswickers became Members of the Order of Canada, including Claude Snow of Caraquet; Christl Verduyn of Sackville; W. Dale Dauphinee of Montreal and St. Andrews; Patricia "Patsy" Gallant of Campbellton; and Jean-Claude Savoie of Saint-Quentin.

Many talented and caring New Brunswickers have also been recognised this past year for their contributions and achievements.

Four New Brunswick educators were among 40 honoured by the Learning Partnership as Canada's Outstanding Principals. They were Bonnie Hierlihy from Fairvale Elementary School in Rothesay, Julie Michaud from Saint Mary's Academy in Edmundston, Heidi Ryder from James M. Hill Memorial High School in Miramichi and Shane Thomas from Fredericton High School.

The winners of the 2018 Disability Awareness Week Awards were Le groupe de support émotionnel - Eugène LeBlanc of Moncton; and Chrissy Montgomery of Fredericton. In addition, Alana Gullison was named the first recipient of the Randy Dickinson Scholarship.

Six new members were inducted into the New Brunswick Sports Hall of Fame, including The Université de Moncton Aigles Bleus hockey team, 1989-90, Al Charuk, Master Chung, Bob Deap, Bill Phillips (1857-1900), and Rob Stevenson.

The Fredericton Marathon, the Maritime provinces longest running marathon, marked its 40th anniversary.

The Foshay International Equestrian Event brought top level horses and riders from Canada and the US to the province.

Saint John hosted the 2018 Canada 55+ Games, while Fredericton hosted the 2018 Basketball Canada U15 and U17 Girls National Championships.

The University of New Brunswick Varsity Reds won the 2018 Atlantic University Sport Championship in both hockey and basketball.

The Acadie-Bathurst Titan won the 100th Memorial Cup. They are the first Quebec Major Junior Hockey League team to capture the Canadian major junior championship since 2013.

Fredericton's own Willie O'Ree, the first black player in the National Hockey League, was inducted into the Hockey Hall of Fame.

At the 2018 Youth World Championships, Charlie Cavanagh marked Canadian boxing history by becoming the first ever female Youth World Champion.

The Council of the Federation met in Saint Andrews, bringing all 13 provincial and territorial premiers to our province.

Growing the New Brunswick economy continues to be a priority, and our province is home to many leaders in the business community.

The winners of the 2018 New Brunswick Export Awards were IntelliSys Aviation Systems, Masitek Instruments, Thermtest Inc., Remsoft Inc., Bouctouche Bay Industries and Bulletproof, with the Impact Award for Investment going to ExxonMobil Business Support Centre Canada.

The winners of the 2018 KIRA Awards included BioNB, SomaDetect, Blue Roof Distillers and the Government of New Brunswick.

The 2018 Start-Up Awards winners were The Ville Cooperative, Boss Gibson Oyster Company, ProcedureFlow, PLATO Testing, Cameron Ritchie, founder of HomeWurk Odd Jobs and Services Inc., and Lisa Williams, CEO of Unicare Home Health Care Inc.

The New Brunswick College of Craft and Design held its 20th annual fashion show, spotlighting the work of students and alumni.

As the East Coast Music Awards celebrated its 30th anniversary, New Brunswick artists received 35 nominations. Les Païens, Measha Bruegggosman and City Natives, which has members from both New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, all took home awards.

Eight musicians with the New Brunswick Youth Orchestra and Sistema travelled to Mexico City, joining 800 musicians at a Pan-American workshop conference.

Also in music, the Backstays won the 2018 Stingray Rising Stars Competition at the Harvest Jazz and Blues Festival.

Condolences

We also pause to remember those we have lost in the past year.

We remember J. Robert Howie, who represented constituents in the old federal riding of York-Sunbury in the House of Commons for close to two decades.

We celebrate the life of Rebecca Schofield as she continues to inspire us with her campaign of kindness, #BeccaToldMeTo.

We honour Ray Frenette, a former Member of the Legislative Assembly, cabinet minister and premier.

As well, we remember former provincial and federal Cabinet Minister Keith Ashfield.

We honour Dr. Dennis Furlong, a former Member of the Legislative Assembly and cabinet minister, as well as an educator, physician, inventor and author.

We remember the four victims of the Fredericton shooting, Const. Lawrence Robert “Robb” Costello, Const. Sara Mae Helen Burns, Donald Adam “Donnie” Robichaud, and Bobbie Lee Wright.

Introduction

For the first time in nearly one hundred years, New Brunswickers have elected a legislature where no party holds a majority of seats.

By giving four parties a voice in the legislature, many New Brunswickers have sent a clear message that all parties will play an important role in moving New Brunswick forward. The minority government situation we are presently in is novel to most New Brunswickers; however, it represents a historic opportunity to do things differently; to do things better; to do things by working together.

It will be important that all four parties find common ground so that we can advance the interests of New Brunswickers.

We are proud to be New Brunswickers because of the people with whom we share this beautiful province. New Brunswickers are kind and resilient. New Brunswickers have differences, and these differences are a source of strength.

This legislature must draw on the many strengths that bind us as New Brunswickers as you move forward in representing your constituencies in this House.

Collaboration

The message from New Brunswickers was clear. No party platform had earned the support of a majority of constituencies and therefore no party should have a monopoly on power. Collaboration must be the mission for the members of this Assembly.

To that end, your government is proposing an agenda that first builds a framework for greater collaboration among all members, and secondly, brings forward policies generally supported by two or more political parties. The essence is compromise; however, your government believes New Brunswickers share common principles that must be upheld. Your government will not implement policies counter to these principles.

How you go about accomplishing all of these things is what needs to be discussed, debated, and decided. By embracing the current minority government situation, you have an opportunity to find common ground with more perspectives represented in the legislature. New Brunswickers have called on you to collaborate more than ever before and by doing so you will be better positioned to strengthen our province. If we do not, we risk dividing our province more so than ever before.

Your government also recognizes that we will better collaborate if we have a better mutual understanding among all New Brunswickers. We must seek to unite rural and urban, north and south, English, French, First Nations, and new Canadians, workers in both the public sector and the private sector, and all other New Brunswickers who have different lived experiences.

Diversity and official bilingualism enhance both our economy and social fabric. Your government will undertake to facilitate a process that seeks to champion and celebrate social cohesion throughout our province through understanding, respect, and harmony among all New Brunswickers.

To help enable a framework of collaboration, your government will undertake the following measures to improve processes within the Legislative Assembly:

- Introduce a motion to provide recognized party status to all four political parties;
- Introduce a motion to mandate the Standing Committee on Procedure, Privileges and Legislative Officers to undertake a complete review of the Standing Rules to ensure that they will work in a minority legislature and look for opportunities to enhance the role of the legislature through measures including, but not limited to, a fixed legislative calendar, a more collaborative seating arrangement, free votes, the ability to call witnesses to testify during committee review of bills, clearer mandates for committees, and a clearer role for legislative review and response to reports and recommendations from legislative officers; and

- Implement a new, more open and transparent budget process. Rather than the traditional approach where departmental budget submissions are reviewed at a cabinet committee behind closed doors, the process will be undertaken during public meetings of an all-party legislative committee.

All parties have identified the importance of returning to balanced books, while they differ on the timelines to do so. It should be a priority to do so in a way that does not have negative impacts on the economy or important social programs. Through the collaborative budget process described earlier, your government will seek to balance the budget by 2020-2021.

Job Creation and Economic Growth

Many New Brunswickers agree that an improved standard of living is created through new jobs and economic growth. From arts and culture to IT and cyber security – multi-sector growth is critical. This is why growing the economy is key to our success and needs to be a priority of government. And to grow the economy, we must also focus on labour force development and keeping our young people here.

Different political parties have different ideas on how best to achieve that priority. However, there is consensus between two or more political parties on the following initiatives:

- Work with small- and medium-sized business owners to eliminate red tape that is a barrier to economic success;
- Work with the Coalition for Pay Equity, labour, business, and relevant stakeholders to extend pay equity legislation to the private sector;
- Increase the minimum wage to $12 on April 1, 2019 and work with other parties to determine a schedule for future increases;
- Include the protection and promotion of covered bridges in efforts to grow the tourism sector;
- Introduce a motion to direct a legislative committee to review resource royalty rates to ensure that they better protect the balance between economic growth and getting value from our resources while protecting private woodlot owners;
- Launch, in partnership with credit unions, a small business loan program for small businesses and entrepreneurs;
- Work with farmers and local producers to enhance the local food and beverage strategy with targets for increasing the ratio of local food production to food imports and for increasing organic production; and
- Introduce a motion to direct a legislative committee to study whether the form and amount of financial assistance to industry to help attract investment and create jobs is appropriate, and report back to the legislature with recommendations.

Investing in Education, Health Care, and Senior Care

For the 2018-2019 fiscal year, 57 per cent of the provincial budget is invested in education, health, and senior care. These are the services that are at the core of what government is expected by citizens to deliver.

Different political parties have different ideas on how best to achieve these priorities. However, there is consensus between multiple political parties on the following initiatives to improve educational outcomes, opportunities for students, reduce wait times in health care and provide for our seniors and retirees:

- Work with teachers and school administrators to restore trades to every high school;
- Eliminate interest on provincial student loans;
- Work with our universities and community colleges to provide free second-language training to any interested New Brunswick adult;
- Introduce a motion to direct a legislative committee to review the billing number system while protecting rural health care and enabling the hiring of more doctors;
- Work with our nurses, and their representatives, our universities and colleges, and health-care administrators to develop a nurse recruitment, retention, and training strategy, and hire more nurse practitioners and more nurses;
- Work with professional associations and labour unions to expand the role of nurse practitioners, midwives and other health professionals to improve access to health care;
- Work with mental health experts to continue and expand investments in mental health services across the province;
- Work with regional health authorities, doctors, and nurses to create more health centres to reduce emergency room wait times;
- Introduce a motion to direct a legislative committee to consult experts, the paramedic association, the paramedic union and other stakeholders to complete a public review of the ambulance system by December 15, 2018 with a particular focus on paramedic shortages and to implement the recommendations of this review;
- Ensure women and their doctors receive breast density information following mammograms;
- Support a federally-funded national pharmacare program;
- Further advance the Home First program to help seniors live independently; and
- By collaborating with those working in the nursing home sector, and focusing on recruitment, training, and retention, increase the hours of care for nursing home residents and hire more nurses, LPNs, and resident attendants to support our seniors.

Protecting the Environment

Climate change is one of the greatest challenges facing humanity. Any government must make concrete actions to tackle climate change and make protecting the environment a priority.

Different political parties have different ideas on how best to achieve that priority. However, there is consensus between two or more political parties on the following initiatives:

- Fully implement the report of the 2016 select committee on climate change and the follow-up plan Transitioning to a Low-Carbon Economy;
- Expand land and water protection including rivers, streams, lakes and bays through conservation areas, natural protected areas and buffer zones;
- Expand the use of renewable and non-emitting energy in New Brunswick, including through the exploration of onshore and offshore renewable energy resources;
- Increase funding for energy efficiency measures for both homes and businesses; and
- Introduce a motion to direct a legislative committee to consider recommending a phased-in ban of the use of herbicides, such as glyphosate, with the scope of the ban to be based on objective evidence.

Fairer Society and Good Governance

Making sure our society is fair for all and eliminating structural barriers, including poverty, that exclude certain citizens from playing the part they wish to play in society should be a priority for everyone.

Different political parties have different ideas on how best to achieve that priority. However, there is consensus between multiple political parties on the following initiatives:

- Ensure New Brunswick's indigenous people are treated with respect and fairness through implementation of the calls to action of the Truth and Reconciliation Commission;
- Introduce a motion to direct a legislative committee to consider whether to recommend to the legislature a potential question, or questions, relating to proportional representation, preferential balloting and the voting age that could be posed to New Brunswickers at the 2020 municipal elections as well as potential amendments to the Referendum Act to ensure a fair process;
- Introduce a motion to direct a legislative committee to review and make recommendations relating to municipal governance, and modernizing the municipal taxation system including examining the possibility of reducing or eliminating the so-called double tax, and of eliminating industrial assessment exemptions including machinery and equipment;

- Increase the budget of the auditor general and work to implement her recommendations that will result in more efficient public spending; and
- Provide for multi-year vehicle registrations and a single licence plate.

Your government will seek to implement these initiatives.

Supporting All New Brunswickers

The Liberal Party platform presented many items which it believed would move the province forward. Your government believes that because no party and no platform earned the majority of seats, no platform should be fully implemented. While all other initiatives outlined are drawn from two or more platforms, your government intends to implement the following initiatives which are believed to have the support from other members of the Legislative Assembly based on their spirit and intent:

- Working with entrepreneurs and business people to create economic opportunity by doubling investments in the Youth Employment Fund;
- Renew economic development and innovation funds for Northern New Brunswick and the Miramichi region;
- Dedicate funds recently committed by the federal government for the “black hole”, to the creation of a provincial program that pairs workers with organizations requiring labour, enabling workers to qualify for Employment Insurance benefits;
- Working with early childhood educators to give our children the best start at learning by rolling out the new child care program provincewide by 2019;
- Supporting doctors, nurses and other health professionals, and our communities by protecting health care through ensuring that no rural or regional hospitals are closed;
- Creating a full government department focused on promoting Women’s Equality while working with women’s equality advocates to expand its mandate;
- Eliminate the use of coal for electricity in New Brunswick no later than 2030; and
- Continuing collaboration on building a fairer society and promoting respect for public servants through the work of the labour-government steering committee.

Conclusion

It is clear that all members of this Legislative Assembly understand the importance of job creation, strong social services including education and healthcare, protecting the environment for future generations, and ensuring that all New Brunswickers have a fair chance. All while maintaining strong fiscal health.

Over the course of this session, ministers will provide details regarding the initiatives contained in this Speech from the Throne.

Amendments to a variety of Acts of the Legislative Assembly will be introduced and debated to ensure your government continues to improve services offered to the public.

New Brunswickers expect a stable government. They have put their faith in you to deliver on important issues, and that will only be possible through cooperation and collaboration. Minority governments are positioned to do just that. I will remind you that it was a minority government with collaboration across party lines at the federal level that resulted in Medicare and the Canada Pension Plan.

This is a unique time and a unique opportunity for all of you. Now you have the chance to prove to New Brunswickers that you heard their message and that you are prepared to work together. This is a historic moment in New Brunswick. And we, as New Brunswickers, have far more that unites us than divides us.

Thank you for your public service now and into the future.

Her Honour then retired from the Chamber.

Mr. Speaker resumed the chair.

Ordered that the Hon. Brian Gallant, Premier, have leave to introduce a Bill entitled An Act to Perpetuate a Certain Ancient Right. (Bill 1)

He accordingly presented the Bill to the House and the same was received and read the first time.

Pursuant to the provisions of the Elections Act, Mr. Speaker laid upon the table of the House the returns of votes polled in the several electoral districts of the province in the general election held September 24, 2018.

On motion of the Honourable the Premier, seconded by Hon. Ms. Harris:

RESOLVED, that the returns be entered in the Journals of the House.

And they are as follows:

Mr. Speaker then informed the House that in order to prevent mistakes he had obtained a copy of Her Honour's speech, which he offered to read. (Reading dispensed.)

On motion of Mr. McKee, seconded by Ms. Thériault,

RESOLVED, that the speech of Her Honour the Lieutenant-Governor be forthwith taken into consideration.

Mr. McKee, a Member for the electoral district of Moncton Centre, proposed an Address to Her Honour the Lieutenant-Governor in answer to the speech, which he read in his place, and being seconded by Ms. Thériault, a Member for the electoral district of Caraquet, it was handed to the Chair where it was again read and is as follows:

Fredericton, N.B.
October 23, 2018.

To Her Honour,
The Honourable Jocelyne Roy Vienneau,
Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of New Brunswick.

May It Please Your Honour:

We, Her Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects of the Legislative Assembly of the Province of New Brunswick, now in session, beg leave to extend our humble thanks to Your Honour for the gracious speech which Your Honour has addressed to us, and we assure Your Honour that all matters which may be submitted to us during the session will receive our most careful attention and consideration.

And a debate arising thereon, after some time, it was on motion of Mr. Higgs, the Leader of the Opposition and the Member for the electoral district of Quispamsis, adjourned over.

And then, 3.20 p.m., the House adjourned.

The following documents, having been deposited with the Clerk of the House, were deemed laid upon the table of the House pursuant to Standing Rule 39:
